

In the Press, and speedily will be Published,
By ELPHINSTON BALFOUR,
In one large Volume Octavo,

A Complete System of Conveyances and SECURITIES upon LANDS; or, of HERITABLE RIGHTS, according to the present practice of Scotland; including those used in creating Freehold Qualifications, in thirteen titles:

- CONSISTING OF

 12. Of Rights in Security, or of Relief and Conveyances thereof.

UPON A NEW PLAN,

In which the names of the clauses are marked in the margin, and the Instruments of Sale and Relinquishment connected with each title, annexed at the end of it.

The Juridical Society, though they modestly conceal their names, yet are well known, and known to be young Gentlemen of good parts, and to have acquired considerable knowledge in their profession for their standing. It is difficult, however, to divine the reason why they have been at so much pains to inform the public, that they have no connection with the above work, as surely they have more generosity than to commend their own, at the expense of that of another. But to save them further trouble, they are hereby informed, that the author of the above is Anthony Macmillan, who about a year ago published FORMS or WRITINGS, &c. which by their rapid sale have already obtained the sanction of the public. The manuscript of the above was in the hands of the bookseller long before the author heard or knew any thing of the plan of the Juridical Society, and would have been published near a year ago, had it not unfortunately been either lost or stolen. He was obliged to make out another copy, and he shall commit it to the impartial public with that diffidence that becomes him. From the success of his former work, he flatters himself, that this will be found useful, and perhaps unworthy even of the Juridical Society. It has at least one advantage over their work, for it will not be above one third part of the price.

At the above shop also may be had, FORMS or WRITINGS used in Scotland in the most common cases, with the Principles of the Law connected therewith, and a Table of Statutes, &c. &c. of summary applications to judges in a variety of cases, with observations on the forms of proceedings before inferior Courts. To which is added, a Table of Fees, in a manner plain and simple, as not to require any previous practice of the law. The second edition, price bound 3s. 6d.

Also just published, price bound 3s. 6d.

A SUPPLEMENT to the above, in so far as relates to Personal Rights.

These two books last mentioned, make a full collection of personal or movable rights, and with the one first above mentioned, a complete collection of Stiles, heritable and movable, or personal, as executed by subjects.

In the press also, and will be published with all expedition, The ACTS of SEDERUNT of the Court of Session, from the year 1534 to the present time.

ELPHINSTON BALFOUR's Sale Catalogue for 1787 is just published, containing the Libraries of Sir John Gordon, Dr George Withart, and several others lately purchased. It is requested of Gentlemen in the country, that they will desire their carriers to call for Catalogues.

AT ABERDEEN, the seventh day of November, in the year one thousand seven hundred and eighty-six, in presence of a General Meeting of the Commissioners of Supply of the County of Aberdeen,

PRESENT,

- George Skene of Skene.
Sir William Forbes of Craigievar.
Andrew Skene of Dyce.
James Jopp of Cotton.
James Ligertwood of Tillyry.
John Lumden of Culchie.
John Gordon of Craig.
William Frazer of Frazerfield, elder.
William Frazer of Frazerfield, younger.
Arthur Dingwall-Fordyce of Culh.
John Paton of Grandholm.
Alexander Innes of Breda.
Alexander Milne of Crimmonogate.
Peter Milne of Crimmonogate, younger.
John Forbes of Blackford.

GEORGE SKENE of Skene in the Chair.

The Meeting having heard the report of the Committee formerly named by them, and having gone through and reasoned at considerable length upon the papers laid before them relative to the proposed alteration in the present Laws for Scotland, were unanimously of opinion, That an alteration in these laws was an expedient and necessary measure; and they were also unanimously of opinion, That this alteration ought to be general, and to affect the whole of Scotland; But as this was a subject of very general concern, and required the most deliberate investigation, they were desirous to have the sense of other counties before forming any particular resolutions; and therefore they name and appoint Sir William Forbes of Pitliglo, James Ferguson of Pitlochy, Mr Charles Hay, advocate, Robert Turner of Menie, and George Leith of Overhall, or any three of them, as a Committee for this county, to meet with the Committees of other counties at Edinburgh, in order to learn any particular Resolutions that may be entered into upon this important subject; recommending to this Committee to inform the county, from time to time, of what passes, in a letter addressed to the Convener, in as he may call and get the sense and opinion thereon of a General Meeting of the county.

The Meeting having taken under their consideration the bill lately brought into Parliament for an alteration in the mode of raising and issuing the Rogue Money in Scotland, they unanimously disapprove of this bill as altogether improper and unnecessary; and recommend to their Representative in Parliament to oppose the same, in case any future attempts should be made to have it passed into a law.

The Meeting recommend to their representative in Parliament, to give his aid and concurrence to any application which may be made for procuring an exemption from the present heavy duties on Coals, paid by this and the other northern counties, as they consider, that such an exemption, even for a limited time, would be highly beneficial to this part of the country, and tend very much to promote the great national object of the Fisheries, even although the present average duties were to be paid on this article.

Scarf proceeding from obstructed perspiration, and all eruptions of the skin, whether in children or adults, as well as blotches, boils, and the most corrosive ulcers.

THE propriety of taking MARETANT'S ANTISCOR-BUTIC DROPS for the above complaints being universally admitted, it only remains to point out where the afflicted may depend on an efficacious composition thereof, which, for their consolation, (confirmed by a larger number, and those far more respectable, of authentic testimonials than any other person since the decease of Surgeon Norton can boast) is that prepared by Mr Hayman of Great Marlborough Street, London; whom the Commissioners of Stamps have honoured, by causing his name and residence, a favour granted to no other preparer thereof, to be engraved in the Government impression, or label, denominating the duty upon each bottle, and which, it being death to imitate it, will, if duly noticed, be an effectual bar to the obstruction of a spurious sort.

Mr Hayman has appointed his Medicine to be sold at 5 s. 5 d. per bottle, said duty included, by the following persons within the circuit of this paper, who will readily obviate the objections, if any can possibly be made, of the most scrupulous enquirer; or a letter addressed to Mr Hayman, by those who cannot visit him personally, will meet a candid reply.

Hague, Nov. 8. The States of Utrecht, in their last assembly, have taken the resolution of writing to the States-General, to announce a discovery which they have made, that Major General Van Ryffel has given orders to the regiment of Pabst, to march without having regard to the jurisdiction of that province in case the town of Utrecht was attacked. This he has done also against the resolutions and sovereignty of their High Mightinesses, who have rendered this resolution comminatory, and it is to be taken into consideration, ad referendum, by six other provinces.

A great number of persons, who are interested in the West India commerce, have presented a request to the States-General, to establish a premium of 85 florins on each slave brought in their own ships to the colonies, and a duty of 25 florins for each negro. LONDON, Nov. 11.

Yesterday the will of her late Royal Highness the Princess Amelia was proved at Doctor's Commons, by Stephen Lushington, Esq. It consists of four sheets of parchment, and is dated in December 1783, since which she added three codicils, in her own hand-writing, the last of which is dated in October last. The particulars, as far as can be collected, of a corrobory view of it, (no person being permitted to take a copy) have been pretty accurately stated in all the public papers.

PRINCESS AMELIA.

Last night, at nine o'clock, the body of her late Royal Highness the Princess Amelia was privately removed from her house, in Cavendish-square, to the Prince's Chamber in the House of Peers, attended by two mourning coaches.

The coffin was placed a little way before the canopy; the room being hung, and floored with black, and lighted with wax candles; and on each side of the canopy were placed five high stands, with large wax tapers. At the head of the coffin was an elaborate chair for the chief mourner, and another chair on each side for her two supporters. On either side of the coffin, close to the wall, were five stools, placed for the ten assistants, and below them two forms for the Ladies of the Bedchamber. The coffin was covered with a sheet, and a black velvet pall, adorned with eight escutcheons; and on the head of the coffin was placed the Princess's coronet, upon a black velvet cushion.

The remains were attended by the principal domestics of her Royal Highness's household.—The body lies in state for public view the whole of this day; and in the evening her Royal Highness will be removed from the Prince's Chamber in the following order:

At the foot of the stairs, the body will be received under a black velvet canopy; and the procession will be made on a floor, raised in, and lined with foldiers, to the south-east door of the Abbey, and from thence round the choir, and up the north aisle to Henry the Seventh's Chapel.

Yeomen of the Guard.

At the entrance within the church, the Dean and Prebendaries, attended by the Choir, are to receive the body, and fall into the procession next before Norroy King of Arms, and to proceed into King Henry the Seventh's Chapel.

The body is to be placed on trestles, a little above the opening of the vault; the head towards the altar; the coronet and cushion to be laid upon the coffin, and the canopy held over it, the supporters of the pall standing near; the chief mourner, and her two supporters, sitting on chairs at the head of the corpse, and the Ladies-Assistants, and the other Ladies, on either side. The part of the service, before the interment, being read by the Dean, the corpse is to be deposited in the vault; the Dean having the Sub-Dean on his right hand, and Garter on his left, standing at the lower end of the opening of the vault.

The corpse being interred, the Dean proceeds with the office of burial; which ended, Garter King of Arms proclaims her Royal Highness's title.

Last night the Urn, containing the bowels of the Princess Amelia, inclosed in a square box covered with crimson velvet, was carried from her house in Cavendish Square, to Westminster Abbey, for interment with her body in the Royal Vault this evening.

An evening paper says, there is now a report very prevalent on the Continent, but particularly in Paris, that there is a matrimonial treaty on foot between one of our Princesses, and the youngest brother of the King of Spain. This is said to be amongst the subjects which Mr Pitt is to submit to parliamentary consideration in the course of the ensuing session. It has a long bout of it; the following are only a part of what must unavoidably be determined:—

Ratification of the Treaty with France.

A commercial adjustment with Portugal.

A second, with Russia.

A modification of the Irish propositions.

The consolidation of the Customs.

A new police bill for London and Westminster.

A Lottery regulation bill.

And the complicated detail of the adjourned impeachment of Mr Hastings.

Mr Eden is expected in town from Paris next week, when most likely the public will be furnished with a copy of the Treaty at large.

Report says that Sir George Yonge is to resign the office of Secretary at War, in order to accommodate Mr Eden, who wishes for his place. Sir George is to be provided for in some other way.

The French at this moment are the Mangeo of the age, all over the world; they are counteracting Russia against the Turks; fomenting mischief against this country in India with the Sultan Tippoo, and dividing and encouraging the powers in that country to cut each other throats; they are secretly stirring up Holland against their Stadtholder, and privately negotiating an exchange of Alsace with the Emperor for his Flemish dominions; this with their assistance will soon enable the Emperor to look bold upon the German Confederacy, which has opposed his views to Bavaria, and which he still holds in duddgeon; the worst of this plan to Great Britain will be, that they will be in possession of Antwerp, which may easily by them be made the first commercial city in the world, as well as port for their navy.

By a correspondent just returned from Bristol, Birmingham, Liverpool, Sheffield, and all the great manufacturing towns in Staffordshire, Lancashire, Yorkshire, &c. he says it is astonishing the effect that the French treaty has in all these places. All is spirit, life, and vigour in every species of manufacture, and an emulation is occasioned every where to partake of the advantages held out by this new channel of commerce.

Whatever may be the consequences and effects of the French Commercial Treaty, at present it certainly is universally acknowledged, by all ranks and degrees of people, to be the most favourable to this country that ever was negotiated; but if the French mean, by this seeming pliability and condescension on their part, to amuse and divert us from other great objects, they are secretly negotiating, which what is at present passing in Europe seems to indicate, we ought indeed to pay the most watchful attention to the cui malo as well as the cui bono of this business.

Our Botany-bay scheme, it seems, for the present, is at a stand still; the Dutch have sent a strong memorial against our planting a settlement in those regions of the south, the habitations of cannibals—Rijm tenetis?

On Thursday evening Prince Caramanicho, the Neapolitan Ambassador, was admitted a Member of the Royal Society.

Lord Mornington is returned member for Saltash, by the freemen and corporation of that borough.—Major Lenton (brother to Sir William the county member) had the suffrages of those possessing burgage tenures, whose votes were rejected by the Mayor. Major Lenton means to petition the House.

A representation from the Privy Council of Ireland, on the troublesome state of that kingdom, has been lately delivered into the hands of his Majesty.

Advices from Stockholm mention the late incorporation of a body of merchants there to trade to different parts of America.

A gentleman just arrived from Holland says, a person is taken up at Appledora, near Daventer in Holland, for attempting to corrupt the workmen at the paper manufactory, to make a paper similar to that used for bank notes. This man is said to have lived at Bath and Bristol. He was committed to prison, and is to take his trial in a few days.

On Wednesday last died, at the Homme, the house of the Earl of Tyrconnel, in Herefordshire, greatly lamented, the Countess Dowager of Tyrconnel. Her Ladyship was the only daughter of Sir Robert Clifton, by Lady Frances Clifton, the only daughter of the late Earl of Bellamont.

We are happy in being able to inform our readers, from undoubted authority, that we were misinformed respecting the death of the Hon. Captain Shirley, which was said to have happened lately in the south of France; and that brave officer being still alive, and, we hope, in a fair way of recovery.

A few days since, a lady of distinction, who has for many years been a supporter of the people called Methodists, and who had been a most zealous assertor and justifier of their doctrines, to the great surprise of the congregation with whom she had been a communicant and sister for many years, got up after the Pastor had given the blessing, and read what she termed her recantation from the errors of that community; which she concluded, by saying, it had brought Christianity into the situation of its Master, i. e. of being crucified between two thieves, Hypocrisy and avaricious Meanness, two more dangerous and despicable thieves than those which attended the execution on Calvary; and that from thence she had resolved to withdraw for ever from that sect her person, friends, (as far as she had interest) and her purse. The first, it was hinted, might have been dispensed with; but her purse is a most mortifying loss. The above is a fact.

LORD MANSFIELD.

To many of our readers it may be a matter of pleasing information to observe, that on Wednesday the 8th inst. Lord Mansfield completed the thirtieth anniversary of his preceding as Lord Chief Justice of the Court of King's Bench; as appears from the following article, which is well authenticated.

"8th Nov. 1756. His Majesty's Attorney General, the Hon. William Murray, was this morning called Serjeant, and about eight in the evening was sworn in Lord Chief Justice of the Court of King's Bench (in the room of the late Lord Chief Justice, the late Lord Mansfield, who died 25th of May, 1756.)—Dudley Ryder, who died 25th of May, 1756, immediately afterwards, the great seal of the office, immediately creating him Baron Mansfield, in the county of Nottingham.

"11th Nov. 1756. Lord Mansfield took his place as Chief Justice."

Lord Mansfield was born about the year 1707; in 1724 he obtained the first university prize for poetical productions, at Oxford, being then a student of Christ Church College. In Nov. 1730, he was called to the bar;—In Nov. 1742, he was appointed Solicitor General, having been previously advanced to the rank of King's Council;—In April 1754, he was constituted Attorney General; and in 1756, Lord Chief Justice, as we have stated above.

In 1757, he, for a short time, upon the resignation of Mr Pitt, filled the office of Chancellor of the Exchequer; and, on the 19th of October 1776, was advanced to the dignity of an Earl.

His Lordship is now verging towards eighty years of age—the handsomest, wisest, and (happily for his country) the healthiest man of his age in Great Britain, and probably in Europe:—We have only to wish that he may long continue to administer the laws of his country, and to execute an office which can never be committed to more noble or upright hands!

A Lady forcibly carried away.

Yesterday about two o'clock, says a morning paper, a married lady of quality was taken by force out of Mr Foster's, in Oxford Street, whether she came to purchase some articles, by five or six armed men, who violently seized, and put her into her own carriage, which waited at the door; they obliged her coachman to dismount from the box, which one of the party immediately ascended, and drove off full speed the northern road; they were seen to pass through Highgate and Barnet. The lady appeared in much distress, her dress much deranged, and the carriage windows were broken. At the latter place a gentleman was observed seated beside her ladyship, with his arm round her. Application was made as soon as possible to Lord Mansfield, and expresses sent off to every sea-port in the kingdom, to prevent their carrying the lady to the Continent.

Account of a remarkable Family living now at Hastings in Sussex, of the name of Brown.—The father of this very extraordinary family is now 108 years old; he married his wife some years ago at the age of 98, by whom he had 24 children, all twins; sixteen of these were sons, and the rest daughters. Twenty-two of his children are now at home with him. The father measures six feet two inches high, and is withal lusty; notwithstanding which, and his great age, he rode from Hastings to London (which is 63 miles) about ten weeks ago, in one day, upon a horse that he had kept for his own riding for these 20 years past. The father has lived a life of intemperance for the last 50 years, having scarcely ever gone to bed sober; and one son follows his steps, as he has not been, for these fifteen years, free from intoxication in the evening. The father always brought his children up to industry; and if he found any of them averse to work, he sent them to sea.

There were two of this disposition, whom he sent on board the Royal George, which was lost, but they both were preserved by swimming upon one plank. The youngest of the 24 children is upwards of fifty years of age. He was married to a woman, by whom he had eight children, who were all like-wife twins; but who, with the wife, died within the space of five years.

Hayman against Norton.—To promote a demand for an imitation of Maredant's Antiscorbutic Drops, in opposition to those genuinely prepared by Mr Hayman of Great Marlborough Street, recourse has been had to the grossest slander. Indeed, his adversary has extended his calumny so far (whether with impunity or not, time will determine) as to libel the decision of the Court of Common Pleas. The verdict plaintiff Hayman obtained, in the above cause, being ten pounds damages, as appears upon record, which carries with it costs of suit; whereas defendant Norton, among other misrepresentations, has circulated a report that said verdict was ten shillings only; a glaring instance of falsehood, which will be properly noticed by a discerning Public.

Such respectable testimonies as the following, (abstracted from the Bristol Journal of the 21st of October last) added to the number, equally authentic, which we have already published, must shield Mr Hayman from the most inveterate calumny of his opponents.

Tolsey, Bristol, October 5. 1786.

"SIR, We have the pleasure to inform you of the cure of Captain John Rogers, of the ship Thomas, whose disorder, of the scorbutic kind, appeared in blotches all over his body, attended with the disagreeable and alarming circumstance of an ulcer, as large as half a crown, which formed itself over his left eye. In short, his complaint was increasing so rapidly, that, when he began your drops, he found himself, in his own words, 'going very fast.' Yet, in the course of twelve bottles, by the blessing of God, every symptom left him.

"He desired we would communicate the circumstance for the good of others; which, being eye witnesses of the fact, we readily comply with.

"A. BROWNE AND SON."

To Mr Hayman, London.

WIND AT DEAL, Nov. 3. E. N. E.

EDINBURGH.

Extract of a letter from London, Nov. 11.

"We have nothing going forward at present but the Princess Amelia's funeral, which is to be this evening; and nothing of the kind having been seen in this country for many years past, a prodigious concourse of people are expected to attend on the occasion. Indeed, the Prince's Chamber has been crowded the whole day, to see her lie in state, by all ranks and descriptions of people. Every one is complaining of the will she has made, and especially of her not having left the Royal Family legacies; yet all the public are going into mourning, and running to see her buried! Such is the effect of fashion, and the desire we have of gratifying an idle curiosity.

"It is now pretty certain, that the intention of forming a colony at Botany Bay, for the reception of transports, will be entirely laid aside, not only on account of the prodigious expence it would occasion to the public, but from a more eligible way being found out of providing for them at home.

"It is confidently said, that it was last week recommended to a certain great personage to have a new creation of Peers, &c. previous to the meeting of Parliament, in order to strengthen the hands of Ministry, but that the idea was immediately discouraged."

On Friday evening died here, Dr John Hope, President of the Royal College of Physicians, Professor of Medicine and Botany in the University of Edinburgh, Senior Physician of the Royal Infirmary, and Fellow of the Royal Societies of London and Edinburgh.

The merit of the late Dr Hope was universally known, but as a Botanist it was eminently conspicuous. Before his filling this chair, the Botanical Garden of Edinburgh scarce deserved that name; it is now one of the best in Europe, being well stocked with curious and rare trees and plants, which have been reared and brought to maturity under the fostering care of this celebrated Professor.

Died at Dundee, the 11th current, David Sandeman merchant there, much and sincerely regretted.

On Sunday the 5th inst. died, at Mansie of Belhelvie, Mrs Isabella Syme, spouse to the Rev. Mr James Forsyth.

On Wednesday last died, Mrs Kirkpatrick, wife of Mr William Kirkpatrick merchant in Dumfries. This day, the Lord Provost presented to the Council, a plan for enlarging the harbour of Leith, with an estimate and report by Mr Whitworth. The same was remitted to the Magistrates and Council, with power to them to order the estimate and report to be printed, if they shall think proper.

Dr Daniel Rutherford was this day elected Professor of Botany, by the Lord Provost, Magistrates and Council, in room of Dr Hope deceased.

Mr James Finlayson presented to the parish of Leith, was also elected joint Professor of Logic, with Professor Bruce, the furriery to the Leith school. We hear, the Lectures on that subject will commence on Monday the 20th instant, at 10 o'clock afternoon.

This day, the Lord Provost, Magistrates and Council, unanimously voted the freedom of this city, to Samuel Charteris, Esq; from the East Indies. A regulation has just now been adopted by the Magistrates, which cannot fail of being productive of salutary consequences, and at the same time of great ease to the inhabitants. It is that of obliging hackney-coachmen to affix upon their carriages, in regular rotation, in the same manner as has long been the practice with hackney chairs. This regulation has become the more necessary at present, when hackney-coaches have become so numerous, owing, no doubt, in a great measure, to the surprising extension of this city and suburbs in these few years.

Yesterday the Provincial Synod of Lothian and Berwick met here. After an excellent sermon by the Reverend Mr William Welsh, minister of Manse, their former Moderator, they made choice of the Reverend Mr William Finlay, minister of Pollok, to be Moderator for the ensuing half-year. At this meeting a motion was made for addressing Majesty, on the preservation of his sacred person in a late daring attempt made upon his life. The motion was unanimously agreed to, and a Committee appointed to draw up the address. The meeting then adjourned till six o'clock in the evening, when the Reverend Dr Carlyle, one of the Commissioners, read the scroll of a dutiful and loyal address prepared by them. It was afterwards read in paragraph by paragraph, by the Clerk of Synod, and some observations having been made upon it, and a few alterations adopted, the meeting unanimously approved of the address, ordered the Moderator to sign it in their name, and to transmit it to Lord Sydney, Secretary of State for the north department, to be by him presented to his Majesty. There was no other business, of a public nature, brought before the Synod. The appeal which had been threatened by the Reverend Dr Johnstone, and some other members of Presbytery, at the last meeting, relative to the mode of calling ministers to the particular parishes of this city, as determined by the Presbytery, and formerly mentioned in this paper, was not moved in, the members having thought proper to drop the matter.

will be agreeable to many of our readers to be informed, that a plan is now under consideration for establishing an Infirmary in Glasgow. Establishment of this kind has long been wished for, and we are happy to inform our readers, that so gentlemen of rank and property are promoters of this design, that there is now little doubt of its being soon carried fully into execution. The exertions in behalf of their diseased and distressed fellow-creatures, merits the highest praise; we hope there are many who will testify the opinion they entertain of their disinterested conduct in a more substantial way, than merely by empty-sounding encomiums,—we mean, by imitating the noble example set before them.—As the Infirmary will be very beneficial to the whole of the west of Scotland, there is not a doubt but the men and gentlemen in the western shires will be liberal contributors to the undertaking; and we would have it in our power to inform our readers, that a sum is subscribed sufficient to put the plan in execution.

The Maria, Cruden, from Dantzick, Diana, and Betsey, Lamb, from London, arrived this morning. The Paisley, Dick, from London to Grange, was well at Gravesend the 8th inst. The Friendship from Leith arrived in the River on the 11th inst. all well. A letter from Ellinore, dated the 6th inst. mentions their having accounts from St Petersburg, the frost had already set in there. Last night, a fire broke out in the work-house of Learmonth, tanner in Liddilghow, which totally consumed the same, together with the stock and utensils. Happily the premises were insured.

Wednesday the 8th current, a most alarming fire broke out in a house in Alloa, which totally consumed the same; and what adds to the melancholy circumstance, a poor old man of the name of James, was burnt to death, and the furniture, &c. destroyed. As unfortunately no insurance had been made, many poor families will be ruined. There has been three fires in Alloa within the space of a month.

Last week, there was a white rose in full blow in the garden of Mr John Coulthard, at Bongate, the leaves of which did not fall off till the 1st of the month. The improvement of agriculture, to promote the utility of ploughing, a sum of money was distributed by Sir Thomas Dundas, Bart. to be distributed to the three best ploughmen of his estate of Manman, making the best work with a two-furrow plough of the latest invention. On the 31st of the month, the three best ploughmen, each with two horse plough, without a driver, started a prize in a field on the Craigie farm, and they had performed their allotted work, the judges viewed deliberately each performance, and gave their opinion of the best ploughed to Robert Forrester, son of Robert Forrester, of Westfield, as first, and William Gray, of Alca, as second, and George Duncan, son of Archibald Duncan, tenant of Brothiebarn, as third, who received the prizes accordingly; after which a dinner was given by the factor on the estate, to the several tenants and ploughmen, and the day was concluded with jollity and harmony, and with an anxiety of still further excelling each other at the next meeting.

On the 9th instant, another ploughing-match took place upon the farm of Hillend, upon the estate of Sir Thomas Dundas, when 21 ploughs took the field, and proper judges having inspected the work, adjudged 4 prizes to the following persons, viz. William Gray, brother to Alexander Gray, tenant in Lookaboutie; James Mill, son of James Mill, tenant in Hillend; John Gray, servant to James Dawson, farmer in Ferrytown; and John Watson, servant to John Stupart, tenant in Birkhillend. The farmers were happy in seeing their ploughmen so attentive to their work, and are determined to encourage them in it.

On Thursday the 9th current, the Justices of Peace of the county of Banff fined James Watson and Peter Donald in the sum of Twenty Pounds sterling each, and ordained them to be imprisoned for six months, or until payment of the fine, for cutting and carrying off green timber, agreeable to the statute of the 6th of King George the Third, chap. 38. entitled "an act for the better preservation of timber trees, and of woods, and under woods, and for the further preservation of roots, shrubs, and plants."

On Wednesday last, was launched at Burntisland a large new passage-boat, named the William, entirely calculated for the convenience of passengers, having a large cabin and fire-place that will contain 20 or 30 passengers with great ease. We have no doubt that a passage-boat of this kind, built with the view of accommodating the public, will meet with every encouragement.

Last night, between twelve and one o'clock, a tradesman was attacked in the Grassmarket by three people, who robbed him of what money he had upon him; and, between three and four o'clock, a carter was attacked on the Easter Road, between Leith and Edinburgh, by three men, who robbed him of his watch. One of them made a stroke at his throat with a knife, which cut his upper lip.

This day, Tho. Ryder, Mills Hellard, and Daniel Davron, three soldiers belonging to the 56th regiment, at present in the castle of Edinburgh, were apprehended and examined by the Sheriff, and thereafter imprisoned for the above two robberies.

A few days ago, the following affray happened at the village of Drifin, in the parish of Lefmahagow, at a group of farming utensils:—A countryman having purchased a cow, caution was demanded in terms of the roup, when a person present offered to become surety, which so irritated the purchaser's son, he considering it as affronting his father, that he drew a knife and stabbed the man in several places of his body in a most shocking manner. We hear he is since dead; and that the father and son have made their escape.

Last week, a very uncommon accident happened at Kilmarnock:—Whilst a man was cutting a slice off a cheese, which he held against his breast, the knife unfortunately slipped, and went into his breast, by which, notwithstanding immediate assistance, he died soon after.

Saturday night, a poor woman coming out of a baker's shop in the Grassmarket, Glasgow, where she had been purchasing a loaf, was accosted by a decently-dressed fellow, by asking her, if she knew where such a one lived? and being answered in the negative, he instantly pulled away her pockets, which contained the whole of her husband's week's wages, the price of the loaf excepted, and made off.

A gentleman the other day, in passing the shop of his shoemaker, in Glasgow, desired him to take his measure, which being observed by a girl, who no doubt knew him, the soon after came in, and told the shoemaker that she was sent by her master (naming him) to get a pair of shoes for herself, which was given; and upon his going home with the master's, he informed the mistress that the maid had got a pair also; but upon her being called in, he frankly owned she was not the fair one, and consequently found himself balked out of his shoes.

Mr JOHN WRIGHT, advocate, in Gavinloch's land, foot of the Lawn-market, Edinburgh, is to begin his usual classes of the Law for this winter, on Monday the 20th inst. viz.—The INSTITUTIONS of the Civil Law at one hour, and the PANDECTS at another.—The Institutions and half the Pandects will be finished about the end of March next; when another Course of the Institutions with the remaining half of the Pandects will begin.

Extra of a letter from Aberdeen, Nov. 13. "Of late this place has been much infested with a gang of house-breakers; last week the store of a stocking manufacturer was broke open, and a quantity of stockings carried off; on the night between Friday and Saturday, the shop of Mr John Gordon, in the Schoolhill, was broke into, and all the money in the till taken away; and on the night following, two breweries in the suburbs were also broke open, and robbed of the money in the counting-rooms.—Strict search is making after the perpetrators, and it is hoped the activity of the police will not be employed in vain.

"Mention was made in last week's paper of a woman being hanged at Glasgow, for theft of goods stolen from a bleachfield. Although the law has made stealing or refusing goods stolen from a bleachfield or manufactory, a capital-crime, we are sorry to observe how little effect the terrors of this law have had in this part of the country; for last week three persons, who had been in the practice of stealing and embezzling goods from the Printfield near this place, were apprehended and imprisoned here; this dangerous gang consisted of a man who stole the goods, and a woman and boy who refitted and disposed of them."

Extra of a letter from a gentleman in the island of South Uist, to his friend in Edinburgh, dated 12th ult. "I am happy to inform you of a discovery of two fishing banks on this coast; for cod and ling, made by two vessels from Ireland, a matter of very great importance, at a period when the fisheries are become an object of general attention, as well to this nation as to other neighbouring States, who have, by unremitting industry, enriched themselves from inexhaustible sources of wealth on our own coasts, though so long neglected by the inhabitants.—The two vessels, or wherries, who have the honour of this discovery are, the Prosperous Mary, Nicholas Kain master, and the Joan and Mary, Matthew Kain master, from Rosses in Ireland. They were on this coast at the cod and ling fishing, last summer, and have been very successful, particularly off the Island of Erika, in South Uist, the property of Mr Macdonald of Boisdale; they found out two new banks betwixt the Island of Barra, and the Island of Tyrie, which abound with these and other kinds of fish. The principal bank lies about five leagues from the Deer Island, bearing south and by east from said island, in about 110 fathom water, where one of the wherries caught 800 ling, 200 skate, 60 cod and tusk, and 100 eels, at three draughts or hauls of their lines. The other wherry caught 600 ling, 100 skate, 60 cod and tusk, and 100 eels, by two hauls or draughts of their lines. The other bank lies off Deer Island near two leagues, bearing about south and by west from it. The fish taken on this bank were found in about 120 fathom water, were remarkably large, and of a variegated spotted colour, and only got upon a particular place or spot of the bank. Some of the proprietors of these coasts and islands have made trails of the cod and ling fishing for many seasons past, and have been pretty successful; but, from experience, they find that the Irish, who come frequently there, do far excel them, owing to the convenience and advantage of their wherries, which are well constructed for that purpose; and as the can put to sea and go at any distance in search of banks and fishing grounds, they are of course the fittest and best calculated for the fishing on these coasts. Adventurers, in my humble opinion, will merit the public aid. A small encouragement from the Hon. Board of Trustees, by giving them a few hooks and lines, would induce them to come out next season better prepared and equipped with proper tackling, in quest of more of these banks; and I have no doubt but such new discoveries might be made as would raise a spirit of adventure and emulation among the natives and inhabitants on these coasts, by which means they would become as expert at this kind of fishing as any of the Irish or other people.—It certainly is an object of great importance to give encouragement for establishing a cod and ling fishing on these coasts, and islands, which in a little time might not only be of great advantage and utility to that quarter of the west Highlands, but also to the public in general."

Lands in Berwickshire.

TO be SOLD, within the Exchange Coffeehouse, Edinburgh, upon Tuesday the 5th December 1786, at six o'clock afternoon.

THE FOLLOWING LANDS,

Parts of the estate of AYTOWN, either in one lot or in the three following, as purchasers may incline, viz.

LOT I.—The Lands of Aytownlaw, Westfield, and Welltower, all contiguous farms, and presently possessed by John Cockburn at the rent of 571 L. Sterling, besides kail.

LOT II.—The Lands of Cocklaw, possessed by Thomas Brodie, at a rent of 307 L.—The Lands of Cheshdale, possessed by Mrs Martin, at 162 L. 12 s.—The Lands of Cairncroft, whereof one part is possessed by Peter Brodie, at 112 L. and the other by William Lyle, at 90 L. 19 s. 6 d.—The total rent of the farms in this lot is, 672 L. 11 s. 6 d. besides kail.

LOT III.—The Lands of Laverocklaw, in the natural possession of the proprietor. The lot, containing from 200 to 250 acres, which are already improved, inclosed, and at present in pasture, and upwards of 350 acres more very fit for improvement, and on which any purchaser can begin to improve immediately, will not be sold unless one or other of the two first lots, which are under lease to good tenants, be first disposed of.

The proprietor has right to the teinds, which are valued; and the public burdens are very moderate.

The lands in the first lot lie within two measured miles of Eyemouth, and seven of Berwick. The lands of the other lot lie a little more than one mile from Eyemouth, and five from Berwick. And the lands in the third lot, about three miles from Eyemouth. The lands in the first and second are in excellent order, and completely inclosed; and there are such clauses in the leases as oblige the tenants to keep and leave them in a state of improvement. The soil of the whole lands is remarkably good. The houses upon the farms are in perfect good repair, and have been lately built at a very considerable expense.

A coal of a very good quality has been lately discovered in the lands of Lamberton, which adjoin to the lands in lot 2; and those who are judges have not the least doubt that the same coal runs through the lands of Aytown, which, as well as from their convenient situation for country sale, must very much increase the value of that property. At any rate, a coal's being discovered already in the very neighbourhood, must be a great advantage to a purchaser.

The first lot stands valued in the cess-books at 617 L. 19 s. 4 d. 6-12ths Scots of value, whereof 568 L. 9 s. 9 d. 6-12ths holds of the Crown, and 44 L. 9 s. 7 d. of a subject. Lot 2 stands valued at 783 L. 8 s. 9 d.; and lot 3, at 100 L. Scots; so that the two last lots together can enable the purchaser to make two votes. The valuation of all the three lots is 1452 L. 17 s. 6 d. 6-12ths Scots, holding of the Crown, and 44 L. 9 s. 7 d. Scots of a subject; and the quantity of lands in the whole is about 2000 acres.

The proprietor, in the view of a sale, has taken the tenants bound by their leases to allow the purchaser to take into his own possession, upon a value to be fixed by arbiters, as much ground as may be required for a house and policy; and there are large thriving plantations of trees on each of the lots.

The articles of roup, and progress of writs, which is clear, will be seen, by applying to James Campbell writer in Edinburgh, who will inform as to other particulars.

Robert Thompson, the factor at Aytown, will show the lands.

There are stripes of planting on the boundaries of this farm to a considerable extent, and in a thriving condition. The present rent and conversions of the kail and carriages, (hens at 7 d.) is 131 L. 13 s. Sterling. Of the present tack there are four years to run after Martinmas 1786, and this lease was given out of favour to the tenant in 1771, fifteen pounds sterling per annum under his own offer, when the farm was wholly uninclosed; and from a late accurate survey and inspection of the grounds, by persons of skill, it is ascertained this farm would yield on a new lease, and be very moderately rented at 170 L. Sterling per annum, which is only about 10 s. per Scots acre.—The upset-price to be 4300 L. Sterling, which is little more than 25 years purchase of the computed rent, and about 49 years purchase of the rent offered fifteen years ago, when the farm was uninclosed.—This farm stands separately rated in the cess-books at 297 L. 3 s. 9 d. Scots.

II. LAMPUCHWELLS.—This farm consists of about 244 Scots acres of arable land, and is wholly inclosed and subdivided, and the tenant is bound to uphold the inclosures, and leave them in a sufficient fencible condition. The present rent and conversions of the kail and carriages is 145 L. 12 s. Sterling.—Of the present lease there are 14 years to run after Martinmas 1786; and this lease was also given out of favour to the present tenant in the 1775, 10 L. Sterling per annum under what was then offered, when the farm was wholly uninclosed; and it is ascertained this farm would yield on a new lease, and be very moderately rented at 170 L. Sterling.—The upset-price to be 4000 L. Sterling, which is little more than 23 years purchase of the computed rent, and not 26 years purchase of the rent offered eleven years ago, when the farm was wholly uninclosed. This farm stands separately rated in the cess-books at 328 L. 13 s. 7 d. Scots.

III. MILTON and MILL.—This farm consists of about 150 Scots acres, on which there is an excellent treading, and good offices; it is completely inclosed and subdivided, and the tenant bound to uphold the inclosures and houses, &c. and leave the whole in a sufficient condition. The present rent and conversion of the kail and carriages is only 88 L. 14 s. 2 d. Sterling, and of the present lease there are thirteen years to run after Martinmas 1786. This lease, on the conditions of building and inclosing, &c. was granted in the 1767, the farm having formerly, when uninclosed, set for 100 L. Sterling; and by the tenant's account 600 L. Sterling has been since expended on the buildings and inclosing, &c. On the survey and inspection before mentioned, it is ascertained, that the land in this farm, exclusive of the thirlage, would yield on a new lease, and be very moderately rented at 150 L. Sterling per annum.—The upset-price to be 3500 L. Sterling, which is little more than 23 years purchase of the computed rent: And, if this farm is sold separately, it is intended to abolish the thirlage at the 10th of the present lease.—This farm stands separately rated in the cess-books at 200 L. 5 s. Scots.

There are inexhaustible fields of limestone on this farm, of which great advantage and profit may be made; and the boundaries of each lot are perfectly regular and distinct.

IV. Feuduty and Superiority of MAIGRIE.—These lands are held in feu by General Fletcher of Salton, for payment of an annual feu-duty of 45 L. 10 s. 10 d. Sterling, with the conversion of carriages, &c. amounting in all to 47 L. 12 s. 8 d. Sterling.—Present rent about 92 L. Sterling per annum. The casualties of superiority are taxed to trifling feuduty duties.—The upset-price to be 25 years purchase of the feu-duty, and one year's real rent for the superiority, which stands separately rated in the cess-books at 207 L. 17 s. 9 d. Scots.

For further particulars apply to George Jaffrey, writer in Edinburgh, who will receive offers, and treat for a sale by private bargain, betwixt and the day of roup.

SALE OF MOLLANCE,

Adjourned to Monday, November 20, 1786.

At the Desire of intending Purchasers.

TO be SOLD by public roup or auction, within the Old Exchange Coffee-house, Edinburgh, on Monday the 20th November 1786, betwixt the hours of five and six in the afternoon.

The Lands and Estate of MOLLANCE, with the teinds, lying in the parish of Crossmichael, and stewartry of Kirkcudbright, comprehending the following lands, viz. Mains of Mollance and pendicles, Erne-Annady, and Flat Moor of Moat Park, Chaplerne, Dubbydale, Halferne and pendicles, Upper Ironamby, Upper Clarebrand, Nether Clarebrand and pendicles, Garrington, Blackerne and pendicles, Little Dryburgh, Dunjarg, Meikle Dryburgh, Hilltown and pendicles, and Chapmanstown and pendicles, containing in whole above 2336 acres Scots statute measure; and the free rental whereof, after all legal deductions, is 1166 L. 16 s. 5 d.

This estate is situated within twelve miles of Kirkcudbright, on the great military road to Ireland. The house is modern, large, and commodious, and, with a complete set of offices, is in the very best repair.—There is an excellent pigeon-cot, and fish-ponds well stocked with carp, tench, and perch, with salmon, trout, and perch fishing in the river Orr and lochs adjacent. The situation is fine, commanding very extensive prospects of the adjacent country, which is remarkably pleasant and well cultivated, and plenty of game in it. There are about 50 acres of wood in the policy, part of which is full grown, and part lately planted, and all in a most thriving condition, which, with the wood upon other parts of the estate, is estimated at above 500 L. Ster.

The fertility of these lands is too well known to need description, and they are occupied by a set of wealthy, industrious, and intelligent tenants as any in that country, and the uncommon punctuality with which the rents are paid is the best proof of the lands being set at moderate rents. They are capable of great improvement, by means of shell-marl, of which there is great abundance within the lands and in the neighbourhood. Coal and lime are brought by water carriage, within four miles of the premises, where also the produce of the lands may be exported. A lime quarry is just opened in the neighbourhood.

The lands are all inclosed and subdivided, and the farmsteadings are all lately built, and in the best repair. James Carter, overseer at Mollance, will show the premises. For further particulars apply to James Stormonth, writer in Edinburgh, or to the proprietor at Blackwood, by Dumfries.

To any person willing to form a considerable interest in that part of the country, this estate must be a desirable object, as it affords eight undoubted qualifications for electors of a member of Parliament.
